

How to design your course blended? Mini guide in 6 slides

Status May 1st:

- UAS filled in – course will be scheduled according to your input
  - Study guide info provided

Original course

Homework, assignments, exercises, discussion groups, reading papers, study book chapters, formative assessment, peer feedback etc.

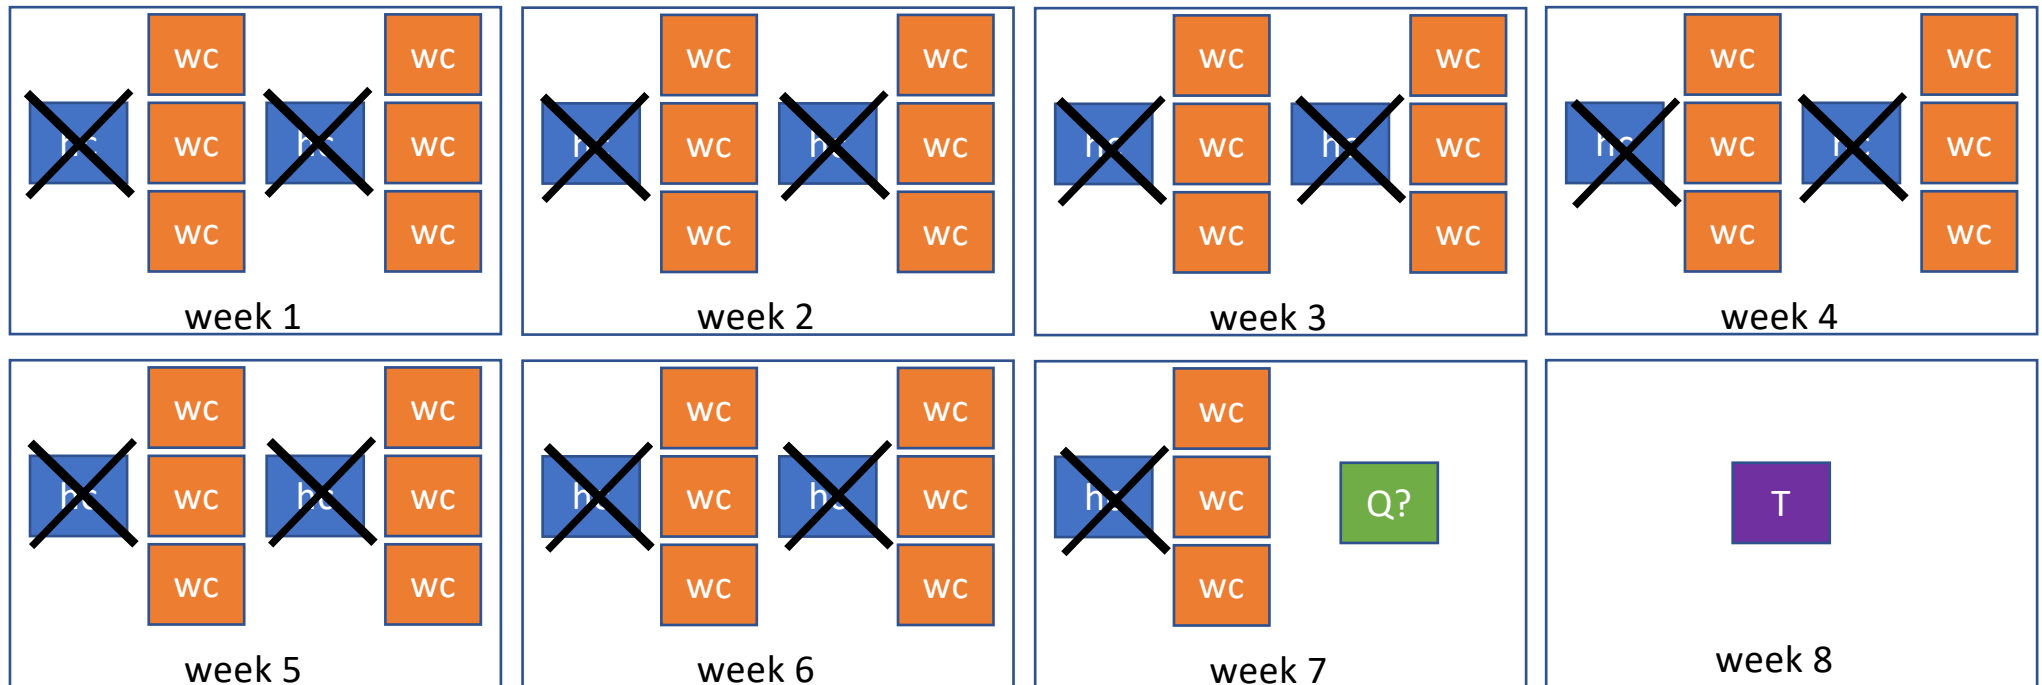

hc Lecture, scheduled without room

WC Working groups, smaller groups, ± 25 students, in parallel, more teachers/teaching assistants/ PhD students, scheduled with rooms

Q? Q&A T exam

Blended design (1)

hc Skip your lectures scheduled without room

WC Contact hours, real time, smaller groups, ± 25 students, in parallel, more teachers/teaching assistants/ PhD students, scheduled with rooms

Blended design (2)

Principle: student's learning process is key

Reach the learning goals not by explain theory or showing examples, but by active learning

Week 1: use 15 minutes of the scheduled for a real time kick-off. Introduce the first assignment, or practice with a small one

A Assignment: activity to stimulate wondering and curiosity. Can be small or large. Can be assessed or not. Majority individual, some can be done in groups. Forces the student to find the knowledge to get an answer, to sort this out

Blended design (3)

What happens with a good assignment?

Student actively learns: Independent of place and time and teacher

Feel free
Be creative

A

Assignment: activity to stimulate wondering and curiosity. Can be small or large. Can be assessed or not. Majority individual, some can be done in groups. Forces the student to find the knowledge to get an answer, to sort this out

Blended design - example

Contact hours, real time smaller groups, ± 25 students, in parallel, more teachers/teaching assistants/ PhD students, scheduled with rooms

Might be used or online